About the National Resource Center

The Health Resources and Services Administration's (HRSA) National Resource Center (NRC) for Training and Technical Assistance (TTA) advances health center operational excellence through the development, coordination, and dissemination of training and technical assistance available to health centers nationwide.

Established in July 2017 by the National Association for Community Health Centers (NACHC), the NRC serves as the vehicle through which HRSA-funded National Training and Technical Assistance Partners (NTTAPs) collaborate and coordinate activities to support health centers.

The NRC has four overarching goals:

1. Improve access to quality health services
2. Foster a health care workforce able to address current and emerging needs
3. Achieve health equity and enhance population health
4. Optimize NTTAP operations, strengthen collaboration, and demonstrate value.

NTTAPs provide TTA to health centers on a wide and a range of issues, often in partnership with Primary Care Associations and Health Center Controlled Networks, including:

- Board Governance
- Capital Development and Growth
- Clinical Workforce Development
- Health Information Technology and Data
- Health Center Finance and Operations
- Health Workforce Recruitment and Retention
- Intimate Partner Violence Prevention
- Medical-Legal Partnerships
- Oral Health Care
- Social Determinants of Health (SDOH)

The Health Center Resource Clearinghouse—

www.healthcenterinfo.org—is an online resource repository of training and technical assistance materials for health centers. It contains evidence-based materials submitted by NTTAPs and others, organized by operational topic areas. The NTTAP Organizational Directory, as well as links to all Primary Care Associations (PCA's) and Health Center Controlled Networks (HCCNs), are included in on the Clearinghouse.

This publication is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of an award totaling $7,287,500 with zero percentage financed with non-governmental sources. The contents are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of, nor an endorsement, by HRSA, HHS, or the U.S. Government. For more information, please visit HRSA.gov.

Association of Asian Pacific Community Health Organizations (AAPCHO) is a national organization representing health centers and community based organizations serving Asian Americans (AA), Native Hawaiians (NH) and Pacific Islanders (PI). Our mission is dedicated to promoting advocacy, collaboration, and leadership that improves the health status and access of AA&NHPIs within the United States, its territories, and freely associated states.

The Association of Clinicians for the Underserved (ACU) is a nonprofit, transdisciplinary organization of clinicians, advocates, and organizations united in a common mission to improve the health of America's underserved populations and to enhance the development and support of clinicians serving them. To that end, we provide professional education, training and technical assistance, and clinical tools and programs to thousands of clinicians and organizations every year to improve health equity for underserved populations. The ACU is the leading voice for the National Health Service Corps and a vital advocate for underserved communities and health center workforce issues. ACU receives HRSA funding that supports the Solutions, Training, and Assistance for Recruitment and Retention (STAR²) Center. The STAR² Center provides free resources, training, and technical assistance on a variety of topics related to clinician recruitment and retention.

National Center for Medical Legal Partnership

AT THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

The National Center for Medical-Legal Partnership works to create conditions in which all health organizations can leverage and integrate legal services as a standard part of their Social Determinant of Health (SDOH) response. NCMLP leads education, research, and technical assistance efforts to help make that goal a reality. Many of the social and environmental factors that contribute to health disparities can be remedied with legal services and expertise. A medical-legal partnership (MLP) is a practical approach that health systems are increasingly using to respond to the SDOHs that adversely affect the health of their patients and communities. In a MLP, legal providers work with health care teams to provide patient centered legal services to address complex and structure social problems that would otherwise not be addressed within the clinical setting. MLP teams also leverage their cross-sector expertise to advance policy changes that can benefit individual and population health.

SCHOOL-BASED HEALTH ALLIANCE

Redefining Health for Kids and Teens

Founded in 1995, the nonprofit School-Based Health Alliance is the national voice for school-based health care. We advocate for health and education partnerships, especially the school-based health center (SBHC) model, to help young people thrive. We provide the field with high-quality resources, training, and motivation and inspiration to excel in their work. School-based health care practitioners, with their distinct expertise, knowledge, and experiences, play a vital role at the intersection of education and health care. By empowering them, we are redefining health for kids and teens. Our vision is that all children and adolescents are healthy and achieving at their fullest potential.
